International Students – High School Student Exchange Programs

Do Schools need to comply?

Yes if your school wishes to have the opportunity to host exchange students for short or long term exchanges or to engage in exchanges with schools or organisations overseas.

Conditions of compliance:

The school is required to be registered with the State Government International Education Services and to comply with the National Guidelines for International Secondary Student Exchange Programs in Australia 2011.

If you have to comply, what do you have to do?

The school must seek registration with IES and meet the requirements of the Guidelines.

What are the consequences if you don’t comply?

Exchange students seeking to come to your school may not be permitted to attend your school.
