How much do governments provide for each student in South Australian schools?

An independent school student receives less than half of the public funding allocated to a government school student.